

Anthropology Department

Application for Graduate Assistantship

Due February 15

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

Application for academic year beginning Fall of _____

Admission status (choose one)

I am a:

Current graduate student, admitted to the Anthropology graduate program
(term) _____ of (year) _____

New applicant, applying for the graduate program beginning
(term) _____ of (year) _____

Note: you must be admitted as a regular (not conditional) degree graduate student to hold an appointment as a graduate teaching assistant.

What is your cumulative GPA? _____

For new students only: Your GPA in Anthropology? _____

Current graduate students only: How many classes (excluding thesis/internship credits) do you have left to take to complete your degree requirements? _____

List relevant prior course titles and the grade you received in each class

--

List your other sources of funding for graduate school:

--

Statement of Interest: a teaching appointment is a significant responsibility that requires prior experience, interest in teaching, and a high level of commitment (13 hours/week) that must be juggled with your other graduate and personal responsibilities. In 500 words or less, discuss: a) your reason(s) for applying to the position, b) your prior relevant experience to prepares you to take on the responsibility of a teaching assistantship (e.g. prior teaching or supervisory experience, prior class work in anthropology or adjacent/supporting fields, etc.), and, c) your prior relevant classroom or work experience, and d) your plan for managing your TA responsibilities with your other academic, work, and personal responsibilities.

