Interested in the Modern History of East Asia, arguably the most dynamic region in the world today?

Consider these two courses

Modern East Asia

TUE / THU 2:00-3:50pm
Cramer Hall 269
CRN 61490
HST 322U

This course focuses on the major economic, political, social, and cultural factors that have shaped the modern history of East Asia (Japan, China, Korea, and Vietnam).

Topics in the History of Japan

TUE / THU 10:00-11:50am
Neuberger Hall 387
CRN 65024
HST 421

This course focuses on the history of wartime and postwar (post-1945) Japan, with special attention to the evolution of concepts of the national identity (nationalism) during this period.

A wide range of sources, including novels and films, will be employed to help students understand this history.
