Don't Panic: It's Not Too Late to Hire a Summer Intern!

Are you suddenly more aware of an important project that could use a fresh perspective, or notice that you need additional help with planning, marketing, and implementing an upcoming event? There is likely a student out there who would welcome and appreciate this professional development opportunity.

At PSU, we make connecting with students simple through our online internship and job database, Handshake. The process is easy and quick: Create an account for your organization and then enter your position description. Once your account and job posting has been approved, you will wait to hear from students. Joining Handshake also allows you to post and manage your job and internship opportunities at a number of local and national schools and colleges.

Expensify Hosts PSU Students

This spring, a dozen PSU students received an exclusive tour of growing software company Expensify, to see their unique workspace, meet with employees, and learn about what they do. Students also met with the organization's CEO, David Barrett, who generously hosted a Q&A session and explained what he's looking for in employees. Thank you, Expensify!

If your organization would like to host students for a future Viking Visit, please contact us at hirepsu@pdx.edu. We'd love to hear from you!
