Future Directions of the Data Review Subcommittee
Members discussed issues related to traffic stop and search data collection in Oregon. Some of the issues discussed were:

✓ The need for more buy-in among law enforcement is needed in Oregon. This is difficult in tight budget times, but also difficult because the incentives for collection are not clear. The perception is there is more cost than benefit? How can this be overcome outside of mandatory collection?
✓ Because of low involvement by Oregon agencies a lot of our recent efforts to examine data have been focused on OSP; this should be expanded.
✓ Discussed broadening the mandate of LECC to all criminal justice overrepresentation, but that could dilute all our focused efforts.
✓ Chief Kerns in Eugene is potentially interested in data collection efforts.
