PSU launches historic $300 million fundraising campaign

Last week, the University announced the largest fundraising campaign in its history, with the goal of raising $300 million in philanthropic contributions by 2021. Let Knowledge Serve | The Campaign for PSU will focus on four key areas: supporting students, empowering faculty, enhancing campus facilities and powering initiatives to address urban challenges and opportunities. Students, faculty and alumni are invited to celebrate the launch of the campaign on Nov. 27 as part of the PSU Day of Giving. READ MORE

OHSU, PSU collaborate to advance human health and safety innovations

From studying autistic adult burnout to identifying structural damage in concrete, six projects have received funding through the new OHSU-PSU Collaborative Seed Grant program. PSU faculty members Tony Chen, Bruno Jedynek, Dora Raymaker, Jeff Singer, Thomas Schumacher and Ken Stedman are each working with an OHSU colleague on a project that investigates pressing concerns in the fields of health and safety. ## Campus safety listening forums scheduled for this week

Margolis Healy, an independent security consulting firm Portland State hired to review campus safety policies and procedures following the officer-involved fatal shooting of Jason Washington, will hold nine 90-minute listening forums in 515 Academic and Student Recreation Center: Tuesday, Oct. 30, at noon, 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.; Wednesday, Oct. 31, at 8:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.; and Thursday, Nov. 1, at 8 a.m., 10 a.m. and noon. The campus and local communities are invited to attend.

Viking Pavilion welcomes men's basketball for exhibition game

The men's basketball team, coming off a 20-14 season in 2017-18, will open in the new Viking Pavilion at the Peter W. Stott Center with an exhibition game on Friday, Nov. 2, against Multnomah University at 7:05 p.m. Six more home games are scheduled, and the Vikings will take on an impressive group of opponents on the road during nonconference play, including the Oregon Ducks in Eugene on Nov. 6. The first Big Sky Conference match takes place Dec. 31 in the Viking Pavilion.

Nominations sought for honorary degree candidates

The campus community is invited to nominate candidates for an honorary degree to be awarded at the 2019 Spring Commencement. The University seeks nominations of individuals who have outstanding scholarship or artistic accomplishments or have performed exceptional public service during their lifetime. Nomination packets are due to provost@pdx.edu by Oct. 31. Visit the Policies and Procedures for Awarding PSU Honorary Degrees page for more information and the nomination form.

Order winter textbooks and supplies

The Portland State Bookstore is now accepting textbook and supply course material adoptions for winter term. There are four ways to order: submit a web form that requires no login; click on the bookstore website and log in under Faculty Services/Online Adoptions; send an email to psuadoptions@gmail.com; or go to the bookstore at 1715 SW Fifth Ave. The bookstore's goal is to reduce the cost of course materials to students, and early and on-time orders allow the store to offer more used titles and rental books.

Free Food Market scheduled for Nov. 5

This month's Free Food Market (formerly known as Harvest Share) will take place one week early, on Nov. 5, to accommodate the campus closure in observance of Veterans Day on Nov. 12. The market will be on the South Park Blocks outside Shattuck Hall. This partnership between the Committee for Improving Student Food Security and the Oregon Food Bank provides free produce and pantry staples to the PSU community. Attendees are encouraged to bring a reusable bag. Contact foodhelp@pdx.edu for more information.

PSU Eats seeks community feedback

PSU Eats requests feedback from the University community to help improve on-campus dining options. Faculty, staff and undergraduate students are invited to fill out a short online survey regarding their dining preferences. The survey will take no more than seven minutes and closes Oct. 31. Ten participants will win free Dining Dollars, which can be redeemed at a variety of on-campus dining locations.
