Carnegie Foundation recognizes PSU

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has given Portland State its Community Engagement Classification in recognition of the University's local partnerships and mission to "let knowledge serve the city." In 2006 PSU became the first institution in Oregon to earn the designation. The renewed 2015 designation will remain active for 10 years. READ MORE

Modules offer students career development, advising support

Portland State students now have 24-hour access to career development and advising support through online modules developed during a Provost's Challenge project. Mary Ann Barham, Advising & Career Services director, led the Online Academic Advising & Career Development Modules project, which resulted in two D2L modules and corresponding websites featuring 36 individual responsive web pages, animated graphics and 19 videos to help students explore their options at PSU and in the job market. Come together for a day of service

Faculty and staff are invited to join Portland-area students for the 2015 Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service Monday, Jan. 19. Buses will leave PSU at 8:30 a.m. and return at 3:30 p.m. The day will start with a rally at Concordia University. Buses will then take volunteers to service sites mostly in northwest Portland. Children age 6 or older may participate with adult supervision. Registration is required. READ MORE

New Business dean chosen

Portland State University has hired Daniel Connolly, senior associate dean at the University of Denver's Daniels College of Business, as dean of the School of Business Administration. He will start this summer. Connolly, a global expert in hospitality management and information technology strategy, will lead PSU's business school as it breaks ground on a $60 million renovation and expansion this summer. New Athletic director named

Mark Rountree has been named director of Athletics for the Vikings program following a national search. "We are very excited to have Mark join us. He brings vast experience across all areas of athletics, and has the energy and passion PSU Athletics deserve," said President Wiewel. Rountree, who is currently the deputy athletics director at Miami University of Ohio, assumes the new post Jan. 20. He takes over a Viking program that has won 28 conference team championships and made 17 NCAA post-season appearances since 2003. READ MORE

Join the chorus winter term

PSU's Community Chorus invites new and returning members to join the choir for winter term. Rehearsals are Tuesdays and Thursdays from noon to 12:50 p.m. in the Choir Room (453 Cramer Hall). The choir's first rehearsal is Tuesday, Jan. 13. There is no audition and the choir consists of all levels of singers. This choir is for current and retired PSU faculty and staff, and alumni. Choir dues, which cover music fees and a stipend for our conductor and accompanist, are $40 per term. READ MORE

Charlotte Goodluck passes away

Charlotte T. Goodluck, professor emerita of sociology and social work, died Dec. 3. She was 68. Dr. Goodluck's gentleness, sense of humor and steadiness in the face of challenges were especially admired and appreciated. Her greatest legacy will remain in the thousands of students she taught during her lifetime. She retired in 2008. READ MORE

Campus adopts tobacco-free policy
