

Study Tour in La Casa Amarilla

A Deep Journey into a Socioconstructivist Educational Project

Lima | Peru

Summer Term 2017

Program Dates: 6/18/17-6/25/17 (Optional extension to 7/2/17)

Led by: Ingrid Andersson, Ed.D.

Term:

Summer 2017

Total Estimated Cost:

$5,780

Courses Offered:

CI 410/510 Study Tour in La Casa
Amarilla: A Deep Journey into a
Socioconstructivist Educational Project

Credit Offered:

3-5 credits

Open to:

Juniors
Seniors
Graduate Students

This course offers a study tour trip to Lima, Peru and helps students to focus their learning within a dialogue framework with South American and U.S. Educators focused on the philosophies of Reggio Emilia through a network of diverse schools, La Casa Amarilla. Students visit many schools, work in the classrooms, attend workshops, engage in pedagogical encounters through daily dialogue with parents, teachers, and other educators developing different points of views with teachers and children with contrasting identities.

As a community of learners, we will explore together what it means to be deep thinkers in our practice. From Programa Transforma--- in the hillside communities of Lima---to the schools in the city center, this study tour will work along side the teachers, children, and parents of the explore learner centered education with children, 3-5 years of age. With over 50 hours of contact in the schools, through PSU classes and on site workshops, we exploring young children's learning through interactions with intentional environments.

Program Fee/Tuition: $4,140 [instruction costs, room & board, insurance]

Additional estimated student expenses: $1,640 [Includes airfare, non-programmed meals, personal expenses]

Application & Information available on-line at:
www.pdx.edu/ed-abroad

E-mail: ingrid2@pdx.edu (Faculty)
slacava@pdx.edu (Ed. Abroad)

Application Deadline:
APRIL 1, 2017

