Background:
The field of EI has moved to a coaching model during home visits. However, the EI program did not have forms to evaluate the skills of students with this model. New forms were developed and piloted in Winter, 2013.

Question:
Are the new forms useful in the current format?
Collect Data

Data Collection Tools/Methods:

• Students and university supervisors were asked to provide feedback at midterm and at the end of the quarter.

• They were asked to identify strengths and concerns about the forms and to suggest revisions.
Data Analysis:
Student and university comments were analyzed to identify strengths and concerns about the forms.

Conclusion: The forms were helpful, but modifications were needed.
Action Steps:

Forms were revised for Spring, 2013.

Please refer to the handouts to see the initial and revised drafts of the form and the final version.

Take Action
Follow up from 2011-12 action items:

- Refined program by developing new forms for EI practicum.
- Continued to work with district partners. One EI specialist participated in revision of forms.
