Catalog Course Description:
Structure and function of environmental systems, with an emphasis on physical processes and environmental system dynamics. Includes a laboratory section using quantitative techniques for conceptualizing and analyzing environmental processes.

Course Objectives – Students must demonstrate the ability to:
1. Understand applications of basic physics in earth sciences
2. Quantitatively understand the movement of energy and material at the Earth's surface.
3. Apply this understanding to such concepts as basic hydrology, mass balances, and heat budgets.
4. Extend these concepts from smaller scales to global scales, such as climate change and meteorology.

Resources
As a PSU student, you have numerous resources at your disposal. Please take advantage of them while you are here. A small sample is listed below:

- CE Website (includes program info, job listings, etc.): http://www.cee.pdx.edu
- Career Center: http://www.career.pdx.edu/
- Center for Student Health & Counseling: http://www.pdx.edu/shac/
- The Writing Center: http://www.writingcenter.pdx.edu/
- PSU Disability Resource Center: 435 Smith Memorial Union

Note: The PSU Disability Resource Center is available to help students with academic accommodations. If you are a student who has need for test-taking, note-taking or other assistance, please visit the DRC and notify the instructor at the beginning of the term.

Introduction to Library and Literature Research
With the advent of the Internet it is very tempting to think that all necessary resources for a term project will be available in full text after typing in a few words at Google.com. This is not the case. You will often need to go to the library, use real library search tools and access real books and articles contained in refereed/archival journals.

Campus Safety
The University considers student safety paramount. The Campus Public Safety Office is open 24 hours a day to assist with personal safety, crime prevention and security escort services. Call 503-725-4407 for more information. For Campus emergencies call 503-725-4404.
