CLAY STREET CLASSROOMS CLOSING

Portland State University (PSU) began leasing part of the building at SW 6th and Clay St., (1433 SW 6th Ave.), in the summer of 2007, to accommodate eight general pool classrooms, as a short term measure to ease the campus need for more teaching space.

The Clay Street classrooms will be closing this summer as the lease for this building terminates. General pool classrooms will be recreated for the start of Fall term 2012 in several different buildings across campus:

- Six (6) classrooms will be located on the third floor of the University Technology Services Bldg., (2121 SW Fourth Avenue)
- Four (4) classrooms will be on the first floor of the Science and Education Ctr., (2136 SW Fifth Avenue)
- One (1) classrooms will be located on the lower level of Neuberger Hall, (724 SW Harrison)

This represents a net gain of 3 classrooms and 25 seats (from eight classrooms and 350 seats in the Clay St. bldg. to eleven classrooms and 375 seats). All of the classrooms will be ‘high tech’ rooms.

The cost of the project is approximately $560,000.

Source of funds: University Reserves

Construction will occur in the summer of 2012 and will be completed by the start of Fall term 2012. The Project Manager is Kay Byrne.
