Western Regional Graduate Program

Qualify for In-State Tuition at PSU!
Do you dream of living and studying in Portland, Oregon? Are you interested in attending Portland State University for graduate school, but worried about the cost? You may qualify for in-state (resident) tuition through the Western Regional Graduate Program!

The Western Regional Graduate Program (WRGP) allows Master’s and Doctoral students from select western states to enroll in qualifying graduate programs and pay tuition at the same rate as Oregon residents. For full-time graduate students, this results in savings of over $5,600 per year.

Eligibility
To qualify for the WRGP resident tuition rate at Portland State University, you must:
- be a resident of a participating state for a minimum of one year before your term of admission, and,
- be accepted into a participating graduate program

To begin the application process, start by completing your graduate program application at www.pdx.edu/ogs/graduate-admissions. You must also complete the WRGP application form (on reverse) and submit it to the Office of Graduate Studies at least four weeks before the beginning of the intended start term. All applicants who are residents of a participating state and are accepted into a participating graduate program will qualify for the WRGP resident tuition rate—there are no additional requirements to meet.
