Per President Wiewel’s campus announcement, “PSU budget update from the president” shared by email on December 5, 2013, unrepresented unclassified employees will receive the following across-the-board salary increases for 2014 and 2015:

- Increases will be awarded January 1st for 12-month and February 1st for 9-month each year, 2014 and 2015.
- Staff members with an annual salary rate less than $50,000 will receive a 2% increase.
- Staff members with annual salary rates at or above $50,000 but less than $100,000 will receive a $1,000 increase.
- Staff members with annual salary rates of $100,000 or higher will not receive these increases.
- Department chairs and equivalent positions are excluded.

Excerpt from the “PSU budget update from the president”

“Unrepresented unclassified staff members who earn an annual salary of less than $100,000 will receive 2 percent pay increases in 2014 and 2015 for the first $50,000 of their salaries. That means staff members who earn $50,000 will receive a raise of $1,000 next year, and a staff member who earns any amount between $50,000 and $100,000 also will receive a $1,000 raise. Department chairs and equivalent positions are excluded. These modest raises, which take effect January 1, help employees keep up with inflation.”
