

INTERNATIONAL FIELD TRIP

Learn from Japan's Earthquake & Tsunami Crisis

Spring Term 2019

PA/ECON 410/510

This course is for those who are interested in disaster preparedness, emergency management, and community resilience.

NON-STUDENTS ARE WELCOME!

YOU WILL

Discuss disaster preparedness, disaster recovery, and community resilience with emergency experts, public officials, NGO leaders, community members, and survivors in the crisis-stricken Tohoku area.

PROGRAM COST

$3,340/person*

*Tuition & Program Fees

- Personal expenses not included.
- See website for full breakdown.
- Students are eligible for the

Dean's Fund ($2,000 award)

DATES

Pre-Trip Classes*

April 27 & May 25 2019

*Required 3-hour sessions

Dates Abroad

June 22–29, 2019

*Must arrive in Sendai by 6/22

CONTACT

Administration

Josh Metzler
jmetzler@pdx.edu

Registration

Hannah Fischer
hfs@pdx.edu

LOCATIONS

1. Sendai City
2. Kesenuma City
3. Ishinomaki City
4. Tokyo

"The need for preparedness is especially relevant to the Pacific Northwest and the Japanese have taken a major tragedy and created an opportunity for learning and improvement both within Japan and abroad. In addition to sharing their experiences with us, the Japanese shared their wonderful culture with us, creating memories and friendships that won't soon be forgotten!"

Amelia Reynolds
MPA Candidate
Portland State University

Deadline: February 15th

Please visit our website to learn more about the course or to start your application. Space is limited!

PDX.EDU/CPS/ICDR-FIELD-EXPERIENCE

