Reshaping Realities: An Arts & Activism Workshop & Performance by YaliniDream

Tuesday, November 9, 2010
7-9pm, Multicultural Center,
Portland State University

Light refreshments will be served.

Queer Sri Lankan Tamil & Brooklyn based performance artist YaliniDream will facilitate a fun, interactive workshop demonstrating different artistic methods that she has used as a tool for community empowerment, activism, and social justice. YaliniDream will share artistic tools she has used when working with various communities fighting for justice, including-- Bangladeshi and Indian domestic workers in Queens, Sri Lankan Tamils living in refugee camps in India, and LGBT People of Color in Central Brooklyn. Participants will have the opportunity to examine injustice while dreaming different realities.

Come ready to write, draw, move, reflect, work together, and share.

For more information, see www.yalinidream.com

Sponsored by the Women’s Resource Center and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program