COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course will provide students with an introduction to the sociology of religion. We will look at the different roles religion plays in society. This will include looking at religion as a system of beliefs, identification, worldview, symbols, and social organization. We will investigate different sociological theories of religion, including the sacred and profane. We will look at religion as a micro, meso, and macro level social process. We will cover religion and inequality, looking at how religion intersects with race, class, and gender.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION: This course is heavily dependent on reading. Students should complete the assigned readings prior to each class, bring the textbook to class and be prepared to engage in thoughtful discussion regarding the readings. Regular attendance will benefit the dedicated student since exams will cover lecture material not included in the texts. D2L will be a small component of this course, so make sure you can log in to your account at https://d2l.pdx.edu/

CLASS CONDUCT: In an effort to make this class a learning environment for everyone, please be considerate of the other students in class. Please try to get to class on time and refrain from leaving before class is done. Turn off all electronic devices. This includes iPods, phones, and laptops. If you want to have a chat with your classmates, do it outside. We will be discussing topics that may be controversial, so it is very important that we all maintain respect for the diversity of opinions represented in the class. This is an educational environment, so ideas may be questioned and critiqued but personal attacks will not be tolerated.

ACADEMIC HONESTY: Academic honesty is a cornerstone of meaningful education and a reflection of maturity and integrity. Portland State University is committed to the highest standards of academic honesty. The Student Conduct Code prohibits all forms of academic cheating, fraud, and dishonesty, but not limited to plagiarism, buying and selling of assignments for others, unauthorized disclosure and receipt of academic information and other practices understood to academically dishonor. Copies of the Student Conduct Code may be obtained by contacting 503-725-4422, or by visiting room 433 in Smith Memorial Center. Any assignment or exam found to be academically dishonest will receive no points for the whole exam/assignment and a referral to the appropriate authority.

ACCESS & INCLUSION: PSU values diversity and inclusion; we are committed to fostering mutual respect and full participation for all students. My goal is to create a learning environment that is equitable, useable, inclusive, and welcoming. If any aspects of instruction or course design result in barriers to your inclusion or learning, please notify me. The Disability Resource Center (DRC) provides reasonable accommodations for students who encounter barriers in the learning environment.

If you have, or think you may have, a disability that may affect your work in this class and feel you need accommodations, contact the Disability Resource Center to schedule an appointment and initiate a conversation about reasonable accommodations. The DRC is located in 116 Smith Memorial Student Union, 503-725-4150, drc@pdx.edu, https://www.pdx.edu/drc.

- If you already have accommodations, please contact me to make sure that I have received a faculty notification letter and discuss your accommodations.
- Students who need accommodations for tests and quizzes are expected to schedule their tests to overlap with the time the class is taking the test.
- Please be aware that the accessible tables or chairs in the room should remain available for students who find that standard classroom seating is not useable.
- For information about emergency preparedness, please go to the Fire and Life Safety webpage (https://www.pdx.edu/environmental-health-safety/fire-and-life-safety) for information.
As an instructor, one of my responsibilities is to help create a safe learning environment for my students and for the campus as a whole. Please be aware that federal, state, and PSU policies require faculty members to report any instances of sexual harassment, sexual violence and/or other forms of prohibited discrimination. Similarly, PSU faculty are required to file a report if they have reasonable cause to believe that a child with whom they come into contact has suffered abuse, or that any person with whom they come into contact has abused a child. If you would rather share information about these experiences with an employee who does not have these reporting responsibilities and can keep the information confidential, please contact one of the following campus resources (or visit this link):

- Women’s Resource Center (503-725-5672)
- Queer Resource Center (503-725-9742)

CONTACT INFO: The best way to contact me is via email. Please be sure to put “Soc 301” in the subject line so I can find your email amidst the spam. If you do not put that in the subject line, I might not read your email. I have a great many students so don’t expect an instant reply. Please send me an email with a picture from your summer.

EXAMS: There will be two exams. Students must take both exams in order to earn a passing grade. No early exams will be given. I reserve the right to implement anti-cheating measures during exams. The exams will be synthetic, in that you will be asked to make comparisons between theories & theorists. Exam 2 will be cumulative.

ASSIGNMENTS: There will be one short paper and one long paper as class assignment. The short paper (~4 pages) will be assigned in Week 3 and due in Week 4. The long paper (8+ pages) will be an ethnography based on participant/observation in religious activity out in the world. This will be more of a qualitative research project than a research paper, although some research will be part of the project. This will be an opportunity to use your sociological imagination to engage with religion as it is lived, not only as it is theorized. The long paper will be due in Week 10.

GRADES: Grades will be based on the following:

- Midterm Exam = 60 points
- Final Exam = 100 points
- Short Paper = 20 points
- Long Paper = 100 points
- Participation = 20 points

Final grades will be based on the standard curve. You start the quarter with 0 points and accumulate them with each successful project.
