Students and staff were invited to come together to dream about what they would like to see and experience in a redesigned space.

9 people were able to attend with the project managers from the Portland State Planning Office. Included 5 staff from SALP and 4 students.

We explored values we should use in designing the space, the following were the shared values of the group:

1. Welcoming: means bright and inclusive. Student-centered and friendly.
2. Creating a sense of Belonging
3. Encourages Collaboration
4. Adaptable to current and future needs
5. Encourages Care and Respect for the space. The space should be practical, organized, and safe.

With those values in mind, we discussed what types of spaces would match our values and meet the needs of student leaders

A lot of ideas were offered, here are the ideas that generated the most excitement:

- Create a “clubhouse” space that could be a large, open space for all student organization leaders that had project space, office and art supplies, computers, copier, printers, mailboxes, and a front desk that can check out resources and answer questions.
- Have large, lockable storage lockers for student organizations to keep decorations and supplies.
- Small meeting spaces with technology (phone, computer, screen)
- Medium meeting spaces with computer and screen
- Most SALP operations move the same floor with a shared front desk for everyone
Participants were able to move blocks around to create their favorite layout of the floor:
