B. Stroll the Stations

9:30am-11:00am, NASCC

Explore all the fantastic tables set out for your little learners! Learn about nutrition and exercise with SHAC, Make cards for seniors with the Student Community Engagement Center, check out the crafts from Helen Gordon Child Development Center, and much, much more!

C. Chemistry Corner*

10:00am-12:00pm, Science Research Teaching Center, 1st Floor

Visit with the good folks from the Chemistry Department to watch some cool demonstrations and make your own slime!

Children may get messy*

D. Museum of Natural History

10:00am-12:00pm, Science Research Teaching Center, 2nd Floor

Check out the Biology Department's Museum of Natural History exhibits, created by PSU students. This is your chance to see the Museum's extensive collection and interact with birds, bugs, and bones.

E. Morning at the Museum

10:30am-12:30pm, Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art at PSU, FMH 110

JSMA at PSU invites kids for an art activity at the museum! Inspired by the current exhibition Labor of Love, which explores hidden and invisible labor, children and guardians will be provided drawing and writing materials to explore work they have seen or done.

Note: Please do not touch the artwork and leave food and drinks at the front desk.

F. Singalong and Dance Party with Tallulah's Daddy!

11:00am-12:00pm, Cramer Family Room, CH 419

Join Portland Children's Musician and PSU Transfer and Returning Student Matt Lynch for a fun singalong and dance party! Tallulah's Daddy plays fun, energetic, interactive music for kids of all ages and their families! Through original songs, fun covers, and unique takes on traditional tunes, his shows have something for everyone. His big bag of egg shakers will get the whole crowd involved in making music together!

G. Civil & Environmental Engineering

10:00am-12:00pm, Engineering Bld., Rm 130

Visit with the team from Civil & Environmental Engineering at the Fluids Lab to see some cool Earthquake and Plant Transpiration Demos. Learn how structures and soils respond to earthquakes, and explore how plants move water to improve our environment.

H. Mechanical Engineering

10:00am-12:00pm, Engineering Bld., Rm 115

Mechanical and Materials Engineering is showing cool experiments with their wind and wave tunnel!

I. Game On
