The Nohad A. Toulan School of Urban Studies and Planning seeks two tenure-track faculty at the assistant and/or associate level. We are looking for colleagues who will engage with communities in scholarship and teaching to effect positive change, including improving social equity and justice, who will enthusiastically contribute to strengthening our academic programs and interdisciplinary collaboration.

Candidates should have expertise in one or more of the following topical areas:

- Energy & climate change, including behavioral and socio-cultural dimensions
- Natural disaster and community resilience
- Environmental justice, including a focus on political organizing and social movements
- Smart cities, including a focus on behavior, policy, planning, and/or equity
- Regional land use planning

Full description of these two positions can be found at https://jobs.hrc.pdx.edu/.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. or provide assurance of completion of a Ph.D. prior to appointment. Candidates for associate professor who have tenure at their current institution may be considered for tenure as part of the review and hiring process.

The review of applications will begin December 1, 2016, and the positions will remain open until filled. Inquiries can be directed to Professor Connie Ozawa, Search Committee Chair, at ozawac@pdx.edu. Applications, consisting of a letter of interest, a c.v., one writing sample, and contact information for three references, should be submitted through the PSU Human Resources website: https://jobs.hrc.pdx.edu/ The letter of interest should cover the applicant’s research and teaching interests, as well as how you will contribute to our School. The appointment is scheduled to begin September 16, 2017.

Portland State University supports equal opportunity in admissions, education, employment, housing, and use of facilities by prohibiting discrimination in those areas based on age, color, disability, marital status, national origin, race, religion or creed, sex or gender, gender identity or gender expression, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other basis in law. In keeping with the President’s diversity initiative, we encourage applications from a diverse range of candidates especially those who are excellent at working cross-culturally or with diverse groups (students and publics). We recognize that diversity maximizes our potential for creativity, innovation, educational excellence and outstanding service to the community.

Instructor, Non-Tenure Track

Nohad A. Toulan School of Urban Studies and Planning
College of Urban and Public Affairs
Portland State University
The Nohad A. Toulan School of Urban Studies and Planning seeks a non-tenure track instructor, (eligible for continuous appointment), who specializes in undergraduate instruction and curricular innovation. Candidates should have expertise in one or more of the following topical areas:

- International and transnational community development, including a focus on immigrant communities and global migration
- Racial and ethnic justice
- Queer and gender studies
- Community organizing and urban social movements
- Natural disaster and resilience
- Environmental justice and climate justice
- Urban design

A full description of this position can be found at https://jobs.hrec.pdx.edu/.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in community development, urban studies, urban and regional planning, environmental studies, sociology, anthropology, geography, gender studies, ethnic studies or other relevant disciplines or be able to provide assurance of completion of a Ph.D. prior to appointment. The review of applications will begin December 1, 2016, and the position will remain open until filled. Inquiries can be directed to Professor Connie Ozawa, Search Committee Chair, at ozawac@pdx.edu. Applications, consisting of a letter of interest, a c.v., a teaching statement, and contact information for three references, should be submitted through the PSU Human Resources website: https://jobs.hrec.pdx.edu/ The appointment is scheduled to begin September 16, 2017.

Portland State University supports equal opportunity in admissions, education, employment, housing, and use of facilities by prohibiting discrimination in those areas based on age, color, disability, marital status, national origin, race, religion or creed, sex or gender, gender identity or gender expression, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other basis in law. In keeping with the President’s diversity initiative, we encourage applications from a diverse range of candidates especially those who are excellent at working cross-culturally or with diverse groups (students and publics). We recognize that diversity maximizes our potential for creativity, innovation, educational excellence and outstanding service to the community.