On January 16th, Representatives of the U.S. Embassy in Hanoi, Portland State University and OCD came together to officially launch their collaborative effort to celebrate the last twenty years of remarkable achievements deriving from the Normalization of Diplomatic Relations between the United States and Vietnam in 1995. The energy at the meeting was high and this collaboration promises to strengthen this foundation of trust and friendship for an even more engaging and fruitful next twenty years. Stay tuned for more updates as this year promises to be very exciting and eventful.
